BRAUDE

Trace Heating

Flexible heated hoses & heated jackets

Braude work closely with eltherm, who are a well established manufacturer of trace heating cables, flexible heated hoses and heated jackets.

Over many years we have gained a formidable level of knowledge and expertise in the manufacture of trace heating cables and tapes (self regulating and constant power types) and control systems and also offer the benefit of an industry leading team of project engineers, on hand to provide bespoke heating solutions from conception to project management and installation – anywhere in the world.

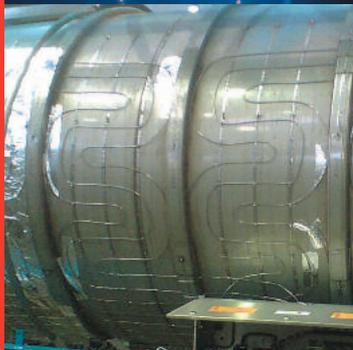

Heating cables and tapes

Comprehensive range of self regulating and constant power/constant wattage heating cables and tapes, for applications ranging from frost protection to maintaining process temperatures up to 900°C

Control technology

Comprehensive range of electronic and mechanically operating temperature controllers, limiters and thermostats including EX approved products.

Custom Heating Solutions

Complete 'turnkey' capability, offering everything from consulting, through to specification, project management, manufacture and installation

Heated Hoses

Electrically heated hoses designed for carrying liquids and gasses at temperatures up to 450°C – whether high or low pressure

Heated Jackets

Taylor made electrically heated jackets offering optimal heat distribution and temperatures up to 900°C

Accessories

Everything you need to implement an efficient, reliable and effective trace heating solution
